3.1 How to use the filter and search bar

You can change the product overview by clicking on below filters and quickly find the products of your interest. The filter can be used to quickly find your products. In addition, we have a smart search bar. Because we have added text to the articles, it is possible to search by various synonyms such as color 'blue chair' or 'stackable'. These are examples there are many more possibilities, so if you can't find something in the filter menu, please try the search bar to find what you are looking for. For now, this smart search function is only available in Dutch and English. The reason for this is because so far we only have Dutch and English texts.
